<td>We aim to provide our students with supportive and quality learning environments. Our goal is to give each student the broad ranging opportunity to strive to their individual potential. We endeavour to provide social skills to build students social and emotional wellbeing. We identify ourselves as a vibrant, dedicated and innovative community that is committed to delivering excellence. Every student has the opportunity to achieve their personal best through engaged, active learning in a safe, respectful and supportive school.</td>
<td>Captains Flat Public School is in the Southern Tablelands, 50 kilometres from Queanbeyan. In 2014 the school had 27 families with a total of 41 students. 15% of students are identified as Aboriginal descent. The school structure consists of 2 multi-grade classes, with two full time teachers and one part time teacher. The school has a part time school administrative manager. Our school values and culture of Safe, Respect, Responsibility and Fun underpin our daily work in ensuring an ideal learning environment for all students. It is a small school providing quality programs with high expectations where students are taught by enthusiastic, committed and experienced staff. The P&amp;C is developing itself and slowly building its capabilities with the community by its dedicated core base. The school is the hub of the community. Buildings are used for a variety of uses by the community. Playgroup, fitness groups and speech groups use our facilities. The school is also the evacuation point for the town. Staff are well prepared for the implementation of the National Curriculum in many subject areas. Scope and sequences for science and history have been developed to be used in multi-staged classrooms to cater for our students.</td>
<td>In 2014, a comprehensive process was undertaken across the school to review current practices and collect evidence, including student results, attendance, behaviour and participation, along with survey data from staff, students and parents. Staff devised a succinct framework to ensure a comprehensive plan was developed with input from all parties. As a staff our goal each day is to provide the highest quality education for the students in our care at Captains Flat Public School. As a result our strategic directions identified as our basis for a shared commitment to future developments across the school are:</td>
